

Tetra is a happy and positive sounding song that can be sung in unison by any number of people! With the proper timing and vocals, it becomes very addicting and hard to stop once you've started. You'll find yourself singing this song everywhere, both at home and on the bus/train/coach. Bobo, the singer of Tetra/Happy Birthday Manayenge (who also has a minor role in the movie) has become very popular because of this song. This song is sung during the Tetra scene of the movie. It is commonly sung at birthday parties.

Tera Hone Laga Hoon (Humma Humma) - This song shows up again in the movie as a remixed version by DJ Suketu (also known as DJ Suketu - The Remix). There's also another remixed version called "Hummasti Kar" by DJ Suketu. This song has been featured on every Shaan film and is commonly used during weddings and parties.

Happy Birthday Manayenge has been sung by numerous other artists as well. There are a few popular versions of this song:

Happy Birthday Manayenge 1 - A cover version done by Lakshmi Shankar, a popular singer from the nineties. This version is also included on the third CD of his solo album "Yeh Naach". Happy Birthday Manayenge 2 - A cover version by Javed Ali Khan (son of famous playback singer Javed Akhtar) which was released with his debut album in 1993. This video features Javed in the lead role with his father accompanying him (he is singing at times).

It was featured in "MTV India 100 Beats" compilation. Amit Chhabra's Happy Birthday Manayenge

Happy Birthday Manayenge was also played on Radio Mirchi on 18 March 2007. It was also used during the title sequence of the second season of "Kasautii Zindagii Kay" for its second episode. It was also played at the opening of the first season of "Uttaran".
