It is a small chinese built, but your child can do when they are showing you what they are learning.Q: How to delete a node from html using javascript? My node to delete is inside a div with id=foo I have a link (id=delete), how can I remove that node using javascript? A: You need to use querySelector: var foo = document.querySelector("#foo"); foo.parentNode.removeChild(foo); If you want to remove it with its children you can use the childNodes collection: foo.parentNode.removeChild(foo.childNodes); If you want to remove it with a specific text node use: foo.parentNode.removeChild(foo.lastChild); To remove the textNode just use: If you want to remove the link use: foo.parentNode.removeChild(foo.firstElementChild); A cytokine-rich environment can exacerbate inflammatory responses in the blood. This environment may be created in an auto-immune disease or during acute inflammation or infection. In chronic diseases such as rheumatoid arthritis (RA), inflammatory cytokines released from inflamed joints can cross the blood-brain barrier and influence brain function. Inflammatory cytokines can also enter the bloodstream and cause cardiovascular disease. Inflammatory cytokines are known to cause a series of changes in the cardiovascular system, collectively called the "cytokine storm". Cytokine storm is characterized by high levels of pro-inflammatory cytokines (such as IL-1, IL-6, TNFα and IFNγ) and a compensatory anti-inflammatory response that can cause damage to the heart and blood vessels. Thus, cytokine storm can impair
