There is no question to which the bounty may be awarded. If a bounty is offered but not awarded to the original question, what happens? A: If the bounty is not awarded to the original question, one of the following things happens: The reputation associated with the bounty is removed. The bounty is reset and awarded to the highest scoring answer in the bounty period. In either case: If the user does not accept the bounty award, it is offered to another answer, if any. If no new answer meets the required criteria, or the bounty is awarded more than once in a single day, the bounty is awarded to the highest voted answer posted after the bounty was started. If there is no answer meeting that criteria the award is not made. In case you are awarded 3ef4e8ef8d
