I have written down my requirement as following Search the data from last to this day Search the data from last year Search the data from last month Search the data from last week and so on. I will have like 5 to 10 values for the parameter. My Application should not be too heavy, it should not chew up CPU nor perform slow queries. Also, I am not mentioning the sort field or the search text here. As I am using Spring Framework for the back-end, I have no issue in making some query which gives me results in the format that I wanted. The only issue I have is, how do I search for suggested matches. For example, searching for last year should find the fields that I have mention in the last year. My current approach is, add all the field names of the data types to a list. When I search for a value which is passed, then ba244e880a
