What's New In Portable Spelr?

Portable spelr is a portable utility that provides a spell checker tool. The application is a little bit like a plugin for Microsoft Office, as it is designed to provide a spell checker as the default one for any application launched from Portable spelr. You can use Portable spelr with Windows 98/ME, Windows 2000 and Windows XP. The spell checker can check the text in any program, but also paste it in any application. Portable spelr Portable spelr [url= | Portable spelr | The Portable Spell Checker] Spell check program lets you click on what you want to spell check and it will go to work. I use mine for websites and it works great. By David Thomas, Tue Jan 09, 2009 7:26 am PST Spell Check This spell check program is a very handy tool. By Steve L, Tue Jan 09, 2009 6:37 am PST Spell check Spell check is my tool of choice. I use it for all MS Word documents and web pages. It works great. I'd be lost without this if my computer crashed. By Julie Bennett, Fri Dec 07, 2008 12:15 pm PST Awesome tool When I created my account here, I wasn't notified that I was missing a point to in the FAQ section. I'm glad I found out where I was going wrong. By Steve C, Fri Dec 07, 2008 11:41 am PST Suggestions I wish this program had a tab that I could use to toggle between dictionary source; ie, the program that has your information, and the program that makes recommendations. By Joe E, Thu Oct 16, 2008 5:41 am PST Great tool Easily supress the in my face popup. It really improves my work process. Never misspell something anymore! By Jean, Wed Jul 02, 2008 2:07 pm PDT Brilliant A little bit like the Mac's built in spell checker but better, it's not tied to a single document, so I can use it in all my Word documents and webpages. It would be great if it had a dictionary from which it could recommend words. The spell checker in Word should be a bit better than this as it
