This also allows you to learn the navigation system and what applications and features are available to you. Other features to consider when purchasing a license are the amount of layers you can use in a drawing and the graphics tablet you will be using. For example, the older versions of Photoshop tend to work best with older formats such as TIFF images. However, if you are going to be using more complex images, you may want to consider updating to a new version that has more advanced functions. Choosing the version of Photoshop is a little more complicated than simply choosing which version to purchase. However, you will need a version of Photoshop that can handle certain document and image sizes. The best option is to use a trial version to try it out and determine if it is right for you. If you need to do some research, you will find some resources online that you can use to help you determine which version of Photoshop works best. 3. BBC News Stories 'I was so glad to get away from a world that's gone mad' It is just one in a series of disturbing pictures from Belfast's Newtownabbey area which has been the scenes of high-profile criminal and sectarian murder in recent years. I was so glad to get away from a world that's gone mad." It is a feeling, he says, that still haunts him in the years after the murder of his son, Daniel, a popular 29-year-old father of three, which began a brutal cycle of violence in the area. Daniel, who survived for almost a week after being stabbed 14 times and battered in a County Antrim hotel in the wee small hours of the morning in October 2004, was buried at the St Peter's Church in the village. From his grave, Daniel's father, Jimmy, has seen the way violence and crime have changed his community, a place where once children and teenagers risked being murdered for a game of football. "Now when the kids come out of school they are all terrified to leave," he says. Daniel's murder was just one in a number of incidents in the area, which were later linked to gun and gangland groups based in east Belfast. Six years after Daniel's death, his younger brother and sister were found strangled to death. Last year, the family faced a further tragedy when his older sister, Janet, died after a long period of illness. The cases prompted a government review into the management of violent crimes by the Justice Ministry and an initial report came out in December. Reprisals However, a number of families felt the remedies were not fit for purpose. One petition, led by the sister of Daniel Moore, stated that the report was a "betrayal". Other families said they were still living in fear, and in some cases were still forced to take precautions to protect themselves. "I've been threatened loads of times, and now I have to take a taxi to get to work. I've been threatened to take a day off work, to see my family." The family's ordeal began in 2006 when a group of masked men had gone from house to house in the area announcing that they were the IRA. A
