programs, play them back later on, and even make them available online to other people. The program can scan through all the audio- and video-streams and save this data in a catalogue. This information can then be accessed to play back the content in a later time. The program is free and can use the screen saver as its main function. The program has to be activated manually. If you do not know the default password, I'll be happy to receive it in an encrypted form. His next announcement came not in person, but in a video message recorded on his laptop: He was being held in the Saipan immigration detention facility and was being charged
