The number of incidents of fraud in the 2017 annual report of the National People's Congress (NPC) has increased from 2,775 in 2016 to 4,100. The total number of incidents of fraud rose from 4,475 in 2016 to 5,700 this year, the report, published on the NPC's website, said. A total of $1.9 billion of people's money was lost to fraud in 2017, the report said. The incidents of fraud accounted for 16.6 percent of the total revenue of the 1.46 billion yuan (US$227.4 million) budget for 2017. The annual reports of the NPC and its Standing Committee are reported in Communist Party's mouthpiece the People's Daily, Caijing Business reported. From March 2017 to February 2018, a total of 1,964 people were arrested for financial fraud in China, the NPC report said. According to the report, 483 people were sentenced to death, 13,724 were given prison sentences and 23,765 were given jail sentences for financial fraud. Six officials were convicted of corruption and jailed, and two officials were punished through shunning. The report does not mention who the officials were. More than 100,000 people have been convicted of financial fraud, the report said. Fraud is defined in the National People's Congress Financial Transparency Law as any illegal act which takes advantage of the trust of individuals or the financial system, the report said. Lawmakers must account for their expenditures within one month of the end of each fiscal year, the law says. China has never made public its budget and spending. The country's total government spending is about 4.7 percent of GDP, according to the World Bank. "Although the fraud numbers don't tell us anything new
