Quickie: Clean & Repair Microsoft® Word (...) Hi, I have a computer with windows 8.1. I installed Word, Excel, Outlook and Powerpoint on it. I did all the updates and now I have all the updates installed. All the programs work fine but I have a little problem. I sometimes get a message saying that the following Microsoft Product names are missing: Microsoft Security essentials Windows firewall Internet explorer Windows

Defender I know that it is possible to reinstall these products but I don't want to do it because I have so many updates to do and I do not want to install updates in order to install these products. What can I do to make it work? I am a bit worried since I have not been able to access to the internet since I was using the computer. Thanks for your help. Hello, I have a problem with the keyboard (the key Cancare to push is not working. I run

Windows 7 on my laptop. I have had this problem since I got the computer. Please send me a video to fix the problem. Thank you in advance. A:Print To PDF with both Software and Hardware The "ccare" key is located at the top left of the keyboard. Steps 1 - 3 are the same steps described below. Steps 1 - 3 are the same steps described below. Method 1 (cannot be used on a laptop): Run RegEdit Navigate to this key: HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software

\Microsoft\Office\ If you are not familiar with regedit, it's really easy to use. To open it, go to Start, Programs, Accessories, System Tools, RegEdit Right click in the HKEY_CURRENT_ USER\Software\Microsoft\Offic e\ folder and click on "New" A "New" item will appear at the top left of the "Edit" panel Enter "PrintToPDF" in the search bar Click the "PrintToPDF" key to see all the keys and values associated with it In my case, the

PrintToPDF key is under: HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software\Microsoft\Office\15.0\Common\PrintToPDF\ Please note that the path and the name of the key are different on your computer. They depend on your Office version, but in the case of Office 2013, the path to "PrintToPDF" key is: HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software\Microsoft\Office\
