I've got a data structure in which some attributes are being defined, which are to be applied, via a constructor, to some other objects. Now, I need to add a collection of objects of that first kind of objects, inside an object of the second kind of objects. In brief, I need to define and build a collection of objects in one step. How can that be done? I'm asking because I don't find any way of doing this, and I don't want to use third-party libraries. A: Would something like this do what you want? class Person { private final List widgets = new ArrayList(); public Person(Widget... widgets) {

What is Excel to MS Dynamics CRM?1. Field of the Invention The invention concerns a wire feed element for a wire-cutting device, in particular for cutting wires for printed circuits. The invention also concerns a wire-cutting device comprising a wire feed element. The invention also concerns a cut-to-length insertion tool comprising a wire feed element. 2. Description of the Prior Art The wire-cutting tools known from the prior art are not suitable for applications where the wire must be cut at a measured length. Wire-cutting devices for cutting a wire at a measured length are known from U.S. Pat. No. 6,324,365 B1 and U.S. Pat. No. 6,545,467 B1. U.S. Pat. No. 6,324,365 B1 discloses a wire-cutting device comprising a shoe which is mounted for axial displacement on a spindle and which comprises a stationary guide part and an indexing part which is movable in the axial direction and which comprises an indexing edge and a cutting edge. When the wire is inserted into the indexing part, it is guided axially by the indexing edge and is cut by the cutting edge. In this case, the wire-cutting device is suitable only for cutting a single wire at a time and the cutting action is not reversible. U.S. Pat. No. 6,545,467 B1 discloses a wire-cutting device comprising a shoe which is also mounted for axial displacement on a spindle and which comprises a stationary guide part and an indexing part which is movable in the axial direction and which comprises an indexing edge and a cutting edge. This wire-cutting device is similarly only suitable for cutting a single wire at a time and the cutting

Digital Tulips - OrgNet ====== theAndruu I don't understand why there's a Wikipedia page about tulips and not about CryptoCurrencies, which is really the same concept. I have always wondered why the financial world (and governments) don't want people to trade or own these things. I can never quite wrap my head around it. It seems to me there would be huge advantages to doing so. ~~~ OrgNet You have to ask the government why they are trying to stop people from trading or owning it.
