You can use a scrubby brush, but a nail brush works even better and is easier to use. Here is what you need: Lead Paint Remover - These are a couple of links that have the best lead paint remover that you can buy. They are the same as the ones that I use and I love them. They are very concentrated and will work for about a quarter of an inch on most lead paint. There are also some lead paint cleaners that you can use. Most of these are expensive and not concentrated enough to actually remove all the lead paint off the walls. I wouldn't use any of them. Lead paint can seriously damage your lungs. You have to be careful when you remove lead paint. You can get lead paint poisoning from it if you breathe it in. Bathroom Here is a quick and easy way to get a clean bathroom. Step 1: I recommend doing this after a shower when you can clean the floors and get the mats and towels out of the way. Step 2: Open up all of the cabinets and drawers in the bathroom. Take them all out and vacuum the bottom of them all. Once that is all done go back and vacuum the top of them and the inside of the drawers and cabinets. Step 3: Rinse out the bathroom and wash the tub and shower completely. Once it is done wash the faucets and the mirrors. Step 4: Once the tub and shower are clean, mix up a bucket
