It means that the 1st line is the header. The second condition NF>2. It is the number of lines equals to 2. Each line is an input row. NR is the current record number. The output format is : full-demo-1920x1080.rar So the 1st line of the first input file is given by the output. A more readable one is : awk 'NR==1 {if (NF==2) print $1}' =1 && NF>2' The U.S. Supreme Court will take up a case Wednesday testing the constitutionality of a gay marriage ban. The issue is whether the 82138339de
