Questions:- Why there is a "Red" and "Yellow" file, so I can not understand. How to fix it? A: If you look at the "Archive.txt" file, you'll notice that there is an extra line in the file. Change Info: Parent: "CS 1.6 PsychoTraining's Edition V3.0 (v43, RevEmu).epub" To Info: Parent: "CS 1.6 PsychoTraining's Edition V3.0 (v43, RevEmu).epub" Name: "CS 1.6 PsychoTraining's Edition V3.0 (v43, RevEmu).epub" Archive: true What the extra line does is instruct the extractor to not use the root level directory entry and instead look in the first subdirectory under the parent directory. This is generally a safe assumption unless you have explicitly told the extractor to NOT search for the root level parent directory. There are a couple of comments I'd like to make about this because I find it strange how the "Archive.txt" and "Info.txt" files don't show the contents of the directory entries that they show. You can tell that a directory entry has certain data in it because of the "Type" attribute, and because it is followed by a "|". Take this directory entry for example: Info: Parent: "CS 1.6 PsychoTraining's Edition V3.0 (v43, RevEmu).epub" Name: "CS 1.6 PsychoTraining's Edition V3.0 (v43, RevEmu).epub" Archive: true As you can see, this directory entry has a "Type": "Info" attribute, as well as the "Name" and "Archive" attributes. If you look at the "Info" directory entry, you'll also notice that there is a "|" after the Type attribute. So by matching the Start-Offset and Length of the "Info" directory entry you can find the beginning of the "Type" attribute, and then you can match the Length of the "Name" and "Archive" attributes with the entry after the "Type" attribute. This kind of data capture is helpful because it allows the software to create an overview of the contents of the archive

The ones for "Refresh" and "Sort" are for File Exist check only, they are from the source file If you are wondering what the "Search" is for: In my case it is for searching for the pattern "/berch/" and looking for all files that contain the 3da54e8ca3
