Solution: Installed 2018 with the update. Seems to run really slow. At first I was able to stream Moldflow but when I right clicked on the video and clicked play, it opens but no video. After looking online I found that I needed to install WinTV, which I did and the problem was solved. I restarted my computer and the video played without a problem. So I assumed that my problem was solved, but it was not. I have done a virus scan and all is clear with that, and by the way I have a new microphone and I have installed the latest version of Adobe Reader and Flash. The problem still occurred, but now I downloaded the ISO image of Moldflow 2018 via DVD instead of the "zip" because I assume that I could be missing a setup file or something. I guess that I could open the setup file and install everything from there but I am thinking that I should be able to stream Moldflow via the DVD. In order to stream Moldflow on my laptop, I installed Windows Media Player 12. After using this one to download the Moldflow ISO image I open it and everything works fine, so I guess that's all fine. Does anyone know what could be the problem with the DVD? I thought maybe I need to copy the contents of the ISO image file as zip file, but it seemed to be easier to simply copy the contents on my DVD. Has anyone had this experience with Moldflow and could possibly help me out on how to get the DVD working properly?
