A 65-year-old man was admitted because of obstructive jaundice. CT showed a tumor in the hilus and common bile duct. Tumor marker was elevated (CEA 1.1 ng/ml, CA 19-9 810 U/ml). Portal vein resection was performed without using the hepatopancreatoduodenal ligament. Histological examination of the surgical specimen showed well-differentiated adenocarcinoma. He was followed up after the operation, and the CEA was normalized. It was revealed to be a recurrent tumor 40 months after the operation. We performed resection of the recurrent tumor with hilar lymph node dissection. The CEA was normalized 2 weeks after the operation.O: Django Rest Framework - Restrict endpoint access I have been doing some research on this one and I haven't found what I am looking for.
