Once installed, FlashFXP will pop up a new icon in your system tray area (far right on the screen). You can click on the icon to initiate a scan, and the results will appear in the main window. Remember to leave the option on "Keep results in a log file" checked in the lower right corner of the dialog box. This will create a log file on your Desktop called "Scan Log" with the date and time of the scan. This file is used to review errors that occur. After you run the scanner, it will beep twice every time it finds a problem. Any problems encountered need to be reviewed in the log file. If you have installed the update features, the log file will also have the name, version, and a special comment. If you do not want to use the update features, use the "Cancel" button.
