What's New In?

Monga is a solution for a very rare problem when you delete the site or the files that you were working with on Sharepoint at the same time or those who need to recover the site from a damaged link or files. When you delete the files or site or you migrate or update the version of Sharepoint server, the file's properties are still there. Few days ago, I needed to recover a deleted site with its files and when I searched for the solution, I found Monga and its very easy to use. This article will explain how you can recover the deleted site's files. This tutorial is useful if you are a newbie or a frequent user. First of all you need to download and install Monga on your PC. Once you completed the installation, open Monga and click on the link, “recover Deleted Site”. A new window will open and in this window select “Select Site” to select the site you are going to recover. After selecting, click “Next” button and then click on “Start” to start the recovery process. The above is just an example, if you want to recover a deleted site with its files you can change the name of the site to recover and search for the files you are going to recover. Then click on the “Next” button. This will start the recovery process of the site. In a few minutes, you will get a notification that you have a successful recovery.

Tips : Monga is a good tool for the situations when you delete the files or you just delete the website but you don’t know where these files or website you have deleted is stored. This tool helps to recover these files and you will be able to recover those files in one click. In the settings of Monga, you have an option of “Show hidden files”. Monga will scan all the hidden files on your drive to find out the files you want to recover. But using this option could slow your PC a little bit so I would suggest not using it. Let’s say you have a link to your site or you are not sure how to find out the physical location of the files or your website, just remember Monga’s email support team and you can send the email with the site’s name and they will reply to your email within hours. So you should try that option first
