What's New in the The Financial Partner?

The Financial Partner is a simple and effective money management calculator for business or personal interest purposes. Using a simple interface with adjustable fonts and colors, you can manage your mortgage, taxes, insurance, amortization, and even calculation of reduced value of money. A wide array of calculators can be used to analyze different costs and functions, from interest to discounted cash flow. The most annoying thing is that this problem isn't limited to just one calculator app, it is widespread and applies to many of them. I have been playing around with the problem since the start of 2017, and I've compiled the following list of apps that have been tested, and failed to solve the problem. 1.
