Scrap Iron Game CrackSport Colombia Sport Colombia is a Colombian professional football club, playing in the First Division of the country. Founded in 1969, they are based in Bogotá and are known as Ramon Castillo's Cola-Colo. Crest, colours and nicknames The club's crest is a stylised figure of a football player. The club's colours are red and black. Their nickname is Derrotas Locas (or Crazy defeats), due to their failure to defeat local rivals Atlético Nacional in the Copa Sudamericana 2011, 7–1 on aggregate in the preliminary round, and also their appearances in the Copa Sudamericana 2008 and Copa Sudamericana 2006. History The club were founded in August 1969 as Cola Colín (named after the Colombian celebrity, football player and actor Ramón Castillo). The first
