Crack 2.0.6658.Q: How many attackers can level 3 Aura of Rage?
I'm thinking about giving my rogue a level 3 Aura of Rage (Heroic Rites). My thought is that Aura of Rage can be used against 3 attackers, from PHB 3's Variant: Combat Maneuver Defense, or from PHB 3's variant: Attack of Opportunity: If you're attacked by multiple enemies at once, you can use your reaction to add your reaction roll modifier to your AC against each attacker. How to calculate how many attackers can level 3 Aura of Rage defend against? A: You can use the Variant from Heroic Rites, and you can also use an attack of opportunity by provoking 3 attacks, rather than all at once. Melee: If you're attacked by multiple enemies at once, you can use your reaction to add your reaction roll modifier to your AC against each attacker. Aura of Rage gives you a reaction you can use to add your reaction roll modifier to your AC, and combat maneuver defence is a circumstance where you can use the standard reaction roll and do 1d8 damage from your dex to AC. You must be using Dexterity to AC to qualify for combat maneuver defence, and because this is melee it doesn't require the weapon of your choice to be your favored weapon, it's any melee weapon. I'm not sure if this is a circumstance where you can use your reaction roll, but the only way to be sure is to find it in the description of the aura. The variant under Attack of Opportunity requires two things Attack of Opportunity: If you're attacked by multiple enemies at once, you can use your reaction to add your reaction roll modifier to your AC against each attacker. Reaction roll modifier to your AC against each attacker You can use the standard reaction roll and do 1d8 damage from your dex to your AC. You do not have to be using a weapon of your choice or your favored weapon. This is one of the situations where
