A: The activation key/serial number is stored in the "personal.cad" file located in the "C:\Users\[your_login_id]\AppData\Roaming\Autodesk\AutoCAD\17\[your_machine_name]\personal.cad" file. It is automatically created by Autodesk AutoCAD when you initially install it and then every time that you add users/groups to the installation. You will need the "personal.cad" file to be able to use the software. You may need to remove the "temp.cad" and "end.cad" files in the "C:\Users\[your_login_id]\AppData\Roaming\Autodesk\AutoCAD\17\[your_machine_name]" folder before you extract the "personal.cad" file. Also, make sure that the Account Information in "C:\Program Files (x86)\Autodesk\AutoCAD\17\[your_machine_name]\Personal.cad\Account.cbin" and in the "C:\Users\[your_login_id]\AppData\Roaming\Autodesk\AutoCAD\17\[your_machine_name]\Personal.cad\Account.cbin" files match. It should look something like this (except for the password that you use to log in):
EDIT: (updated based on user comments below) Use the following command to find the serial number stored in the "personal.cad" file. The "--no-decode" option is available in the command line version of "uncrackwiz" software.
uncrackwiz --no-decode --personal-key Your-AutoCAD-serial-number.cracked --personal-key.cracked --personal-code Your-AutoCAD-serial-number.cracked Additionally, according to the Autodesk Tech support forum, Autodesk recommends that users remove the "temp.cad" and "end.cad" files from the "C:\Users\[your_login_id]\AppData\Roaming\Autodesk\AutoCAD\17\[your_machine_name]" folder before un-installing/un-pausing the software. Alternatively, you could make a copy of the "personal."

Glucocorticoid hormones such as dexamethasone (DEX) have an immunosuppressive effect on the immune system, but at the same time they increase circulating levels of prostaglandins (PGs), which have an immunostimulatory role. To determine the role of PGs in DEX-mediated immunosuppression, we evaluated the effects of various DEX concentrations on in vitro PHA-induced lymphocyte proliferation and PG production in human peripheral blood mononuclear cells (PBMC). DEX inhibited PHA-induced lymphocyte proliferation in a concentration-dependent manner, and there was a close correlation between proliferation inhibition and DEX concentration. 10(-4) M DEX suppressed lymphocyte proliferation by 84.2 +/- 1.5% of control (N = 4, P Q: Error trying to install dnsmasq I was trying
