SimpleQR is a Metro app that gives you the possibility to generate Quick Response (QR) codes from simple text. It features several QR code customization options and has a module dedicated for filling vCards for business purposes. Generate QR code from plain text or vCards The tool can be quickly downloaded and installed from the Store, as long as you're running Windows 8, 8.1 or 10. It's optimized for devices with touch support, thanks to the fact that it has large, hard to miss buttons for tapping. The main window doesn't have an impressive look but it's easy to navigate. You can type or paste the text you want to turn into QR code, then proceed with the scan configuration settings. Customize QR code options and save the image For instance, you can set the scan distance, enable poor lightning and low contrast, make the lines not perpendicular, as well as specify the printed size. The measurement unit can be picked between millimeters (mm) and inches. The QR code is displayed in the main window, right next to the input box as soon as you click "Generate" from the app commands bar. If you're pleased with your work and want to share it with your friends, you can save the picture to PNG, JPG, BMP, TIF or GIF format by just indicating the output directory, file name and format. Fill out vCards for business If you want to create QR codes for business reasons, then you can fill out a vCard from the app commands bar with your title, first name, middle and last name, email and physical address, zip code, city, state or province, country or region, company, job title, website, as well as mobile and landline numbers. Only the first and last names are mandatory; the remaining fields are optional. Furthermore, you can print the image with the QR code or save it as a PDF file if you have a virtual printer installed. Simple and useful QR code generator To sum it up, SimpleQR comes packed with easy-to-use and practical features for helping you generate QR codes from simple text and vCards. SimpleQ b7e8fd5c8

I don't know the answers to your questions, but I can tell you about my personal experience. I got a colleague to ask her Microsoft Team to extend her Office365 subscription, she had to do it through the Microsoft website, but it worked fine. She was then able to be extended and pay for all the remaining months, but I don't know how she was able to find the remaining months, I only know her company had an option in the subscription settings. I believe the plan she has is able to be extended 3 times, 3 months each time. She paid for the first year and the company has used one of the options in order to extend it. Another option for you is try the Microsoft.com/Office365/Outlook.com portal, where you can find the option to extend your Office365 subscription, but there is a list of countries where you can't.
