January 15th, 2019 Here's what you have to look forward to in 2019: Mayor Bowser and the residents of DC are truly excited to begin the new year. With a new administration in the White House, there is a sense of optimism, a belief that things can be better and a promise that the city will be a better place for you and your family to live, work and play. Kicking off the year, our Mayor has made an active resolution to participate in "The Green New Deal" by traveling to the country with her family and helping spread the message of protecting the environment and making it right for our future. There are eight other District-wide resolutions that have been made this year and include: Enact a tax credit for significant investments in the District's existing historic properties; a commitment to a lower tax burden for District residents; increase investments in public schools for an effective education system; provide an injection of money to support our transportation network of roads, streets, bridges, ferries, and other transportation modes; build affordable housing and invest in transit; ensure that District residents have access to clean air and water; provide more reliable, affordable and accessible public services; and educate District residents and visitors about the importance of climate change to our health, safety and prosperity. UPDATED 2019/01/16 Information about all District-wide resolutions from Mayor Bowser can be found here. A video of Mayor Bowser explaining the many ways that she, and the District, would be working to fulfill her vision for the District is available here:Q: How to sum certain row in a matrix?
