"We are truly humbled and excited by the response and, as a result, have decided to bring this great experience to every player with FIFA's most realistic football game," said David Rutter, Senior Producer at EA Sports. "By capturing and analyzing the movements of an entire football match live, FIFA 22 delivers all of the beauty, intensity and emotion of the most exciting sport in the world." "The game is being built around the player and the sport," continued Rutter. "With the most realistic players, the physics engine and the accuracy of the artificial intelligence, FIFA 22 is the most authentic football game available." FIFA 22 will also feature new game modes and leagues that will further extend the number of leagues available. These new modes and leagues are linked to developments within the ongoing UEFA Champions League (* UEFA Champions League is the premier club competition for European football). The new modes will introduce new ways to challenge as well as new ways to enjoy football. HyperMotion Technology, an All-New AI Engine FIFA 21 introduced a revolutionary new AI Engine called KO2, which uses machine learning to improve the way players make their decisions. The new engine is currently being used for FIFA 22. "The AI engine continues to lead the industry and the response to KO2 has been incredibly positive," said Rutter. "With this in mind we are bringing this engine to every sport where the AI is involved." The new game modes allow players to choose from more than 1,000 authentic teams, including fan-favorite clubs such as Tottenham Hotspur and Aston Villa as well as emerging clubs and leagues. Clubs will also appear in a variety of competitions, including their domestic leagues, domestic cup competitions, European competitions and international club competition. Fans will have access to all these competitions through a new and improved Club App. Key Game Features A World-Class Player Experience FIFA 22 includes a number of key features that further enhance the game experience. These features are showcased in the FIFA Classic Game Mode where players can challenge their friends in FIFA Classic. These features include: New Players: New Player Types: New Features: New Mobile Game Experience: FIFA 22 Mobile brings all of the fresh new features from the console and PC versions of the game to the mobile space. The most recent iteration of the FIFA Mobile Companion app is available worldwide.
