Auto Mail Sender Birthday Edition Crack + [Mac/Win]

===== Auto Mail Sender Birthday Edition is a reliable and easy to use application designed to remind you when a friend's birthday approaches. It can automatically send a greeting email to the birthday person, whether they are friends, family, acquaintances or work colleagues. Configure the birthday plan You can insert the birthdates of friends, family, colleagues, teachers or business associates to an extensive list, that sorts them according to the relation you have with them. The sorting determines which template applies to each person. Moreover, you can set specific greetings templates for holidays and festivals. By default, the software can send greetings for Halloween, Women's day, Valentines day, Thanksgiving or April Fool's day, but the list can easily be customized. Simply add the name of the celebration, the date and the intended receivers. You may add several filters, such as gender - female, for Mother's day recipients, for example, age, or category of contacts. Email template designer The application enables you to create multiple email templates, each suitable to one or more events or birthdays. For instance, you can set different email templates for birthdays of friends, relatives or business associates. A common template might sound too formal for a friend or too colloquial for an employer. You may add the text, with specific mentions for the names, dates, and age, in order for the software to automatically fill in the blanks before sending the email. These elements, as well as signatures, phone numbers or bank accounts can be customized from the Macros Manager window. Additionally, you can insert images, art text and background colors. You have full control over the email layout, font, colors and text size. You may view the email source or get a preview of what the recipient email looks like. Conclusion With Auto Mail Sender Birthday Edition you can automate email sending, thus never missing to congratulate someone on their birthday. You can customize templates and edit them at any time, in order to make the message templates as personalized as possible, thus giving a pleasant surprise to the birthday person. Additionally, the software can resend the emails multiple times, if the first try fails. Reminder is a desktop Notification utility (available as a plug-in for various browsers). Allows to set reminders (at given date, time and action) to your browser. When you navigate away from the page that you have a reminder you can choose to have it displayed an beep or play a sound and/or flash some animation. When you have a reminder set it will be shown as a shortcut icon at the top right corner of your browser. You may choose to go to the link, open the page, open new tab and/or open new window. There are no restrictions in terms of what action you can chose. Reminder is a notifier, not an interval clock. It is up to you how you use it. If you find that this is not enough for you, you can add the installation of a similar application as a plug-in for Firefox, Chrome and Internet Explorer. Reminder is Free Software.
