FIFA 22 introduces “HyperMotion Technology,” which uses motion capture data collected from 22 real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data captured from player movements, tackles, aerial duels, and on-ball actions are used to power FIFA 22 gameplay. Gameplay enhancements include:

- Motion Scan – Changes in player movement, positioning, and style of each player can now be manipulated on the field. Analyse the qualities and attributes of each player, before manoeuvring your players during the game.
- Particle Mesh – Changes to formations, player movement, and positioning can alter conditions on the field.
- Player Progression System
- Orienteering – Changes to the ball speed, direction, and curve can be analysed based on the position and reaction of each player.
- Show Scout – Study a player or team with scout cards to see their formation, physical, and technical strengths.
- Reproduction – Speed and weight gain or loss can alter the dynamic of a player’s play – such as a fast player moving slower after an injury.
- Shoot Move – The power and accuracy of a player’s shot can be affected by pre-planned movement.
- Weaponry – Options such as lobs and long shots can be altered based on the positions and velocity of rival players.
