I want to navigate from Forms2 to Forms1 using UserControl. This link to a video where it explains how to navigate between forms from forms. It is that I have two project and I need to navigate between forms from Forms2 and from Forms2 to Forms1. Both are in the same solution. A: If you use a standard.aspx or.vb.net form, you have no access to the "current" form. You need to find a way to get the current form. If you use a UserControl or a Content Control, you could try to implement the OnPreRender event to create a reference to the current form. But like @Brynmoore said, i wouldn't do this. So if this question was based on your idea to use a UserControl, you need to provide a better explanation about what you really want to achieve.
