The Holy Spirit, Meditation, Soul Searching We began a discussion today on what it means to be "in the spirit." Jesus is a Spirit, but we don't start by talking about the Holy Spirit, do we? No. It's in the context of our need to be "of one mind." In another context, "in the spirit" is about agreement on a thing, a decision. If we are truly in the spirit, we will have come to a decision and will agree with each other on a matter, and that matters greatly. "But what is the 'spirit'?" We want to be in "the spirit." And so we asked a simple question: "What does it mean to be in the'spirit'? What does it mean to be 'of one mind'?" It seems simple enough. We all agree that "Spirit," by the way, means many things, most of which lead us to Jesus, but in this particular context, it seems that we are speaking of this Spirit when we are "in the spirit." Where is this Spirit, if I may use that expression? "Into the anointing of Jesus," the priestly Spirit of Christ, is where the conversation began, and I think that is a good place to look next, or follow in the same conversation, because that is what we are doing when we "in the spirit" or "in the flesh," if we are in the Spirit, and that is why we call that "the spirit." And so we all looked at the Garden of Gethsemane (I mean all of us, including you, and I pray that God will use you in this way), and we began to see that just like Peter, we are looking at one another as the
