Features: New adjustable 'in-game physics' controls Rampant Player Behaviour The "Rampant Player Behaviour" feature allows players to be more aggressive when in possession of the ball or chasing a loose ball, and counter-attacks and off-the-ball movements are more fluid. Rampant Player Behaviour Up to three players can be controlled in one pass, while the others are controlled using the "Rampant Player Behaviour" feature - which is now included by default in all player types. This feature allows players to be "rampant" when in possession, aggressively chase-down opponents with the ball, chase loose balls, and counter-attack with a big body. New 'Evolving' Tactics The new Evolving Tactics feature provides a unique strategic method to construct attacking and defensive plays. Play can be built from the back, and players can make balanced combinations of dribbling, passing, scoring, and receiving. Evolving Tactics The "Team Management" screen can now automatically take control to make adjustments to formations, in-game tactics and substitutions. This feature will be constantly monitored by the opposition. Features: New True Player Motion Tech Team Management True Player Motion Tech The True Player Motion Tech, or "TPT", feature allows players to perform more realistic actions through the use of extraordinary realism. The main difference between the "TPT" and "True Player Motion" is that the "TPT" works in real-time and is more spontaneous. "TPT" will allow players to run, slide tackle, carry the ball and dribble in-play, and exhibit all of the instinctive behaviours that only real players are able to control. Team Management Team Management When a player is selected to control a "Team" in the game, they will be presented with the same on-field setting of their player in order to make realistic tactical adjustments. "Team Management" will also automatically make adjustments based on in-game objectives (including 'scoring', 'attacking', 'defending', and 'balance') as well as 'match situation' (e.g. two-forward, two-back, counter-attack).
