Allocate two MB of system storage for the operating system.Q: Verifying Html using htmlunit I have created a TestCase by using org.apache.commons.io.IOUtils.copyURLToFileSystem for getting html files from local file system. But how I can verify Html page after it's loaded in browser. How I can verify it? The reason for this test is to verify page source. Thanks in advance. A: You don't test for the page source, test for the response from the server. If the file is served up by Apache, you can take a screenshot of the page after you retrieve it in the browser. If it's served up by.Net, you can take a screenshot of the page after you navigate to the page. Basically, you are testing the same thing that you do
